Tip Guidelines for Housekeeping

Hospitality industry workers, particularly those not supported by a union are very low wage earners. The U.S. Bureau for Labor Statistics indicates 5.7% of laborers in the hospitality industry are unionized. These workers are significantly more behind the scenes than other leisure/service industry workers, like bell hops and restaurant servers. And as a result are less likely to be compensated for their time and effort. Some hotels recently began offering for guests to opt-out of housekeeping by largely cleaning the room themselves. This practice directly takes a job away from an already marginalized population of laborers; please continue to opt for housekeeping whenever possible.

It is a kind and just practice to leave tips for housekeepers. It does not go unnoticed and is appreciated. Standard tips are $10 per day occupying a room. Given the shortened convention please consider giving more!

Please tip each day, because staff may change, using the envelopes provided by the Episcopal Network for Economic Justice and indicate it is for housekeeping.
